

GET A JUMP START ON SUCCESS

Gaming Laboratories International (GLI®) experts pride themselves on having the ability to meet strict deadlines. In order to help our clients speed product time to market, we offer Quality Assurance (QA) and pre-compliance testing.

Pre-compliance testing involves working collaboratively with vendors to test new games and components as they are developed and prior to being submitted to the test lab for formal regulatory certification. Our goal is to detect functional and compliance-related issues early within the development lifecycle, allowing for earlier remediation.

BENEFITS OF PRE-COMPLIANCE TESTING

Pre-compliance testing has been shown to reduce the number of issues encountered by the independent test lab during formal regulatory testing. In turn, this extra step increases a supplier's first pass rate and reduces the product's time to market. Defects identified early in the development lifecycle are almost always easier and cheaper to resolve. Early engagement of the GLI test team during requirements definition and design activities will facilitate early detection of defects.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OUR EXPERTISE

GLI utilizes unmatched market intelligence. We are the only independent test lab that employs key market experts in every region of the world, allowing us to provide our clients with invaluable insights into upcoming trends and key factors that will impact gaming products entering the marketplace.

Our nearly 30 years of global compliance testing and expertise has allowed us to compile an extensive database of regulations, conditions, clarifications and best practices in the industry. Our clients are able to leverage this important information during pre-compliance and compliance testing to ensure compliant products are brought to market most efficiently.

In addition, we are the only independent test lab in the gaming industry that has a proven track record of reducing gaming suppliers' global time-to-market through an integrated pre-compliance and formal compliance testing approach.

Additional benefits of implementing a QA and pre-compliance testing regimen include (but are not limited to):

- Reduces test time and testing cycles while at the lab
- Reduces time to market for new products
- Reduces supplier staff overhead and training costs
- Creates pre-established product familiarity by GLI resources
- Results in higher quality products entering the marketplace
